

Dear Members of the FCC:

I am writing in support of K-Love radio station. I have three children and I commuted for a good 6 years from Weimar to Davis. K-Love was a breath of fresh air. I look forward to my morning drive. The news put on by K-LOVE is inspiring and always reported with care. Other radio stations mock current events in the news or seem to just report bad events just to have a piece of the action. On my morning drive listening to K-LOVE keeps me in good spirits. It gives me an optimistic attitude knowing that I am not alone in my love for mankind. It is my time with the Lord and helps me to remember to be kind each day and cherish humanity. Before I found K-LOVE, I was disgusted with the radio stations. They are crude and obnoxious. I actually stopped listening to the radio altogether because of the subject content. It is not stuff that children need to hear. In fact, since finding K-Love, I have not listened to other radio stations at all. K-LOVE helps support the way I choose to raise my children.

Once I heard a radio station broadcasting about two women "getting it on" at a concert. Now if it had been a man and a woman they would not have spent what seemed like 10-15 minutes on this discussion. I do not want my children hearing that this is normal in any way. Nor should this station have been playing in a store. This is the kind of stuff that other radio stations are finding of interest. It made me even happier that I had a station like K-LOVE to listen to.

My only regret is that I had not found K-LOVE sooner. There was a time when I needed to hear the message and I loved hearing K-LOVE's message every single morning and still do. K-LOVE reaches more people than a church can. It reaches out to those who might feel really alone or alienated. People need to hear that someone is there, even though they don't know them by name. People do not need to hear how horrible the world is or hear the same negative songs constantly, so much that it is ingrained in their minds without them realizing it. That is why I call K-LOVE a breath of fresh air, not the stale, tainted odor of hypocrisy. I was divorced with three children at 25 with no family or friends in the state, but a judge said I could not leave the state with my children. K-LOVE gave me hope each day, gave me forgiveness, and helped me find my path, all through the message of the day, the songs, the interviews, but most importantly the songs. It is a different way to reach people and it is necessary.

Many people will miss out on this kind of support if K-LOVE is replaced by other programming. Many lives will miss the inspiring message this station puts out every day. Please don't allow this to happen.

Sincerely,
Rhonda Stelck
